THE TOSHINDEN STORY

The Toshinden is a secret tournament of fighting gods, governed by the secret and powerful organization Himitsu Kessha. A year ago, Gaia™ (one of the fighters), organized a tournament without the knowledge or consent of the Himitsu Kessha. Because of this, the Himitsu Kessha now considers Gaia a traitor, and wants him eliminated. This is the motivation for organizing another Toshinden—to lure Gaia to his last battle. It is this arena of evil in which you are about to enter.

OPERATING THE CHARACTERS

Button Operations are configured below for characters facing right:

→	Move Forward
↓	Crouch
←	Move Backwards

BUTTON COMBO(S)	REACTION
↑ ↖ ↗	Jump

ATTACK STRENGTHS

There are two types of attacks: Weak Attack and Hard Attack. Weak Attacks are quick attacks that don't produce a great deal of damage but keep your fighter well-guarded from his or her opponent. Hard Attacks produce greater damage, but because they use bigger motions, they leave your fighter more vulnerable to counter-attack. Special moves differ in speed and effect, depending on whether it is a Weak Attack or a Hard Attack move.

DEFENSE

When your fighter is on the ground and not attacking, press the directional keys away from your opponent to block his or her attacks. A normal attack will not inflict damage if it is defended. A special move, however, will inflict damage to some degree even if it is defended. You cannot defend yourself against a throw move. There are two types of defense: Upper Defense and Lower Defense.

Upper Body Defense

Use Upper Body Defense to defend against special moves and attacks when your opponent is attacking the upper portion of your fighter's body. Upper Body attacks can come from an opponent who is either standing or crouching, depending on the character and his or her moves. Upper Body Defense also defends against jump attacks.

Lower Body Defense

Use Lower Body Defense to defend against special moves and attacks when your opponent is attacking your feet. Lower Body attacks can come from an opponent who is either standing or crouching, depending on the character and his or her moves.

SPECIAL NOTE: A throw move cannot be defended against!

GAME RULES

The winner of the battle is determined according to the following rules:

1. Reducing the opposing character's energy level to "0" so that he can no longer stand is considered a win by knockout and is good for 1 point.
2. If a character falls out of the ring during a battle, that character loses. The character remaining in the ring will acquire 1 point.
3. In a battle with time restrictions, if the battle cannot be settled during the restricted time period, the character with the higher energy level left at the end of the battle will be the winner by decision. The winner will acquire 1 point.
4. When both characters have their energy depleted at the same time (double knockout), or when the energy level for both characters is the same at the end of a restricted time period, the game ends in a draw.
5. The character to accumulate 2 points first is the winner and moves on to the next battle. (2 points is the default)

GAME MODES

Game Modes are selected by pressing the Start Button when the intro screen is displayed or while the demo is in play. Use the directional keys to make a selection and press the Start Button to start the game.

In the 1P game mode, you will be battling 8 opponents, including warriors from the Himitsu Kessha. In the Full Battle game mode, you will be battling all 10 characters as well as boss characters.

SCREEN INDICATORS

1. 1P Time Display: This is the total round time for Player 1.
2. 2P Time Display: This is the total round time for Player 2. (not pictured)
3. 1P Energy Gauge: The gauge decreases each time Player 1's character is damaged. When there is nothing left in the Energy Gauge, it is considered a loss by knockout.
4. 2P Energy Gauge: This is the Energy Gauge for 2P. It functions in the same manner as the 1P Energy Gauge.
5. Time Remaining: This displays the time remaining in the restricted time period of the battle. If there is no restriction, this is displayed as (00).
6. 1P Win Marks: This is the win mark for 1P. It will be lit for each point that is won. The first player to win 2 points is the winner.
7. 2P Win Marks: This is the Win Mark for 2P.
8. 1P Overdrive Gauge
9. 2P Overdrive Gauge

OVERDRIVE GAUGE

The gauge increases when Special Moves or attacks are performed successfully or when a character is attacked by his opponent. When it reaches its MAX stage, the gauge flashes. This MAX stage will continue for a certain period of time. While the gauge is flashing, attacks such as Special Moves are enhanced. Furthermore, "Ultimate Moves" can also be used during this time. As the gauge is flashing, it starts to decrease. When it hits zero, the overdrive state is disengaged. It is up to you to find out, through your battles, how you can best increase this gauge to achieve the Overdrive state.

PLAYING THE 1P GAME

CHARACTER SELECTION

By selecting "1P Game" in the game mode, you will be able to play a tournament style game against characters operated by the computer. Select your character by using the directional keys and then execute your selection with the  Button. The computer will then choose its character and the battle begins. (Select the box to determine the characters randomly.)

1P GAME

In the "1P Game," you will face eight fighters. When all opponents are defeated, a warrior from the Himitsu Kessha will come forth.

CONTINUE

If you are defeated by an opposing character in the "1P Game," the continue screen is displayed. By pressing on the Start Button during the countdown, you will be able to restart the tournament starting with the opponent that just defeated you. Pressing a button other than the start button when the continue screen is displayed accelerates the countdown. The game will be over if you do not continue.

JOINING A GAME IN MID-PLAY

It is possible to break into a game while a "1P Game" is underway. This is done with the use of another available controller. Pressing the Start Button on the available controller selects the character that just broke in and interrupted the battle that is currently underway.

PLAYING THE VS GAME

Selecting the "VS HUMAN" game mode allows you to play against another player. On the character selection screen, select the character you wish to operate. Selecting "VS COMPUTER" allows you to play against a character that the computer operates. Select the character that you will be operating first, then select the character that the computer will be operating.

If you are defeated in the "VS HUMAN" mode, you may initiate a continue within the time limit and you will be brought to the character selection screen where you will be allowed to re-choose a character. If you are defeated in the "VS COMPUTER" mode, a continue will initiate a second chance against the same character.

OPTIONS DURING PAUSE Pausing during a battle enables three choices: CONTINUE (continue on), OPTION (option mode), and RESET (return to title screen). Make a selection using the Select Button and press the Start Button to execute.

OPTION MODES

GAME SETTINGS AND CHANGES Select "OPTION" from the game modes to go to the option mode screen. Here, you can make changes to different settings in the game. Move the directional keys on the controller Up and Down to select the items, Right and Left to change the settings. Press the Start Button or select EXIT to return to the title screen.

Difficulty:

This changes the level of difficulty when playing against the computer. "1" is the easiest and "8" is the most difficult. NOTE: The Default setting is "4."

Bout Time:

This changes the length of the bout time. Choose from 60 seconds, 99 seconds or unrestricted (00). NOTE: The Default setting is 60 seconds.

Set Point:

This changes the points required to win a battle. The first player to win the number of points set here is the winner. NOTE: The Default setting is 2 points.

NOTE: These options can be changed only in the main option menu, not during the game. Changing bout time during the match affects subsequent rounds.

Opponent Life Setting:

This sets the handicap for players playing in the VS mode. The larger the number, the more defensive power a character will have and the less likely it will be for that character to be damaged. The handicap that is set here is not related to the level of difficulty that is set in the "1P GAME." NOTE: The Default setting is 100.

Defense:

Setting the guard type to auto enables a character to defend himself from an opponent automatically if that attack is defensible. NOTE: The Default Setting is Normal.

CONTROLLER R1, R2, L1 and L2 buttons can have different functions. Use the left and right directional keys to chose the functions.

Camera Type:

The battle can be shown at different camera angles.

Normal: This camera mode is recommended during normal game play.

Long: This relays the battle from a distance.

Sky: This relays the whole stage from up above.

Overhead: This relays the battle from above the characters' head.

SOUND The sound mode can be switched between Monaural and Stereo. Change the sound type to Monaural if you are playing on a television that uses a monaural speaker. NOTE: The Default setting is Stereo.

CHARACTER SELECTION Character selection allows you to choose to view either portraits or statistics. NOTE: The Default setting is Normal.

What was the promoter's real intention? Chaos did not say a word.

USAGE PRECAUTIONS

- This disk contains software made exclusively for PlayStation. Never use this disk with other machines as it may cause equipment damage and other damages or it may have adverse effects on the human body such as the ear.
- Read the section "For Your Safety" in both the Guide and the Instruction Manual that came with your PlayStation machine and make sure that this game is used correctly.
- When setting this disk onto PlayStation, please make sure that the side with the label (the side with the title printing etc.) is facing up. Furthermore, push the middle section lightly to stabilize the disk.
- After play has been completed, press the Open button on the PlayStation and confirm that the disk has stopped rotating completely before removing the disk. Never touch the disk while it is rotating as it can cause injury or cause damage to the disk or PlayStation.
- Both sides of the disk should be handled with care to keep it clean and free of finger prints and to avoid damage. Also, do not put any type of adhesive labels on the disk or write or draw anything on it using pencils, pens or anything else.
- If the disk becomes dirty, wipe it with a light touch from the inner side of the disk in an outward radial stroke, using a soft cloth such as a cloth that is used for wiping glasses. Do not use record cleaners or solvents, etc.
- Never use a disk that is cracked, deformed or has been repaired with any type of adhesive as it can cause malfunctions.
- Do not store the disk in a warm place such as a place where it can be exposed to direct sunlight or near a heating equipment. Furthermore, avoid storing in places with high humidity.
- Never place or drop any heavy material on the disk or its case as they can break and cause injuries.
- After completing play, return the disk to its case and store out of the reach of small children.
- Never connect your PlayStation to a projection television since light from the residual image may burn into the screen.
- Some software may require memory cards. Please check the Guide.

HEALTH PRECAUTIONS

- To protect your health, please take a 15 minute break after each hour of play.
- When playing, make sure there is enough light in the room and maintain as much distance as possible from the television screen.
- Avoid play when fatigued or when sleepy.
